ARTICLE 07 — WHAT SHOULD I DO WHEN AN EMPLOYEE HAS AN HR QUESTION?

START WITH THE KNOWLEDGE BASE

Managers should first direct employees to the relevant HR knowledge article or Employee Self-Service journey.

IF THE ANSWER IS AVAILABLE

Share the relevant article or service link.

IF THE ANSWER IS NOT AVAILABLE

Search related HR topics or raise the appropriate HR service request.

IF THE QUESTION INVOLVES AN EXCEPTION

Follow the defined HR escalation process rather than providing an informal interpretation of policy.

Manager Principle

Guide employees to trusted HR knowledge rather than creating a parallel source of information.

12. CONTENT PACK — MANAGER

ARTICLE 08 — MANAGER GUIDE TO EMPLOYEE SELF-SERVICE

Managers can support self-service by:

- Directing employees to approved HR knowledge.
- Sharing relevant knowledge articles.
- Using standard HR service channels.
- Avoiding unofficial interpretations of HR policy.
- Escalating exceptions through the appropriate process.
- Providing feedback when employees cannot find an answer.

Manager Self-Service Mindset

Find → Understand → Guide → Escalate when required

13. SEARCH-INTENT DESIGN

Employees do not always search using official HR terminology.

A knowledge article should account for the different ways users may describe the same need.

EXAMPLE — PERSONAL INFORMATION

Official Term

Personal Information

Possible Employee Searches

- Change my address
- Update phone number
- Change email
- Edit my profile
- Update contact details

- Change personal details

EXAMPLE — LEAVE

Official Term

Leave / Time Off

Possible Employee Searches

- Apply for leave
- Request vacation
- Take time off
- Leave request
- How to apply leave
- Check leave balance

Knowledge Design Principle

Write for the language employees use—not only the terminology used by HR.

14. PERSONA-BASED CONTENT DESIGN

The same topic may require different content depending on the audience.

EXAMPLE — LEAVE

EMPLOYEE VIEW

How do I request leave?

Focus:

Action → Eligibility → Steps → Status

MANAGER VIEW

How do I approve an employee's leave request?

Focus:

Responsibility → Review → Decision → Escalation

HR AGENT VIEW

How do I resolve a leave-related case?

Focus:

Process → Validation → Exceptions → Resolution → Escalation

Result

One governed knowledge ecosystem can support multiple personas without creating unnecessary duplicate content.

A consistent template improves usability across HR knowledge.

JOURNEY 03 — NEED ASSISTANCE

Employee searches

HR receives contextual request

17. KNOWLEDGE + SERVICE CONNECTION

Knowledge should not exist independently from HR services.

Design Principle

Knowledge answers the question.
The service enables the action.

18. CONTENT PERSONALIZATION

Where appropriate, knowledge can be personalized using:

PERSONA

Employee / Manager / HR

LOCATION

Global / Region / Country

EMPLOYMENT CONTEXT

Applicable employee population

SERVICE

Relevant HR service or process

LANGUAGE

Preferred or applicable language

SYSTEM

Relevant HR technology or portal

This reduces irrelevant content and helps users reach the correct information faster.

19. SELF-SERVICE CONTENT QUALITY CHECK

Before publishing an employee-facing article:

- ☐ Is the title easy to understand?
 - ☐ Does it match likely employee search terms?
 - ☐ Is the target audience clear?
 - ☐ Does the article answer the user's question directly?
 - ☐ Are the steps actionable?
 - ☐ Are policy/process details accurate?
 - ☐ Are regional differences identified?
 - ☐ Are links valid?
 - ☐ Are related articles included?
 - ☐ Is an owner assigned?
 - ☐ Is a review date defined?
 - ☐ Is the content suitable for search and AI retrieval?

20. MEASURING SELF-SERVICE SUCCESS

Self-service effectiveness should be measured through both content metrics and service outcomes.

KNOWLEDGE USAGE

- Article views
- Search volume
- Top searched topics
- Repeat searches
- Search refinement

CONTENT PERFORMANCE

- Helpful / not helpful feedback
- Zero-result searches
- Low-performing articles
- Content freshness
- Content gaps

SERVICE IMPACT

- Case deflection
- Reduction in repeat inquiries
- Self-service completion
- Virtual Agent resolution
- Reduction in avoidable HR cases

EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE

Example

If employees repeatedly search:

"How do I change my bank account?"

but no useful article exists:

Search Gap → Content Requirement → New Knowledge Article → Self-Service →
Reduced Assisted Support

22. AI & VIRTUAL AGENT READINESS

Self-service content should also support conversational experiences.

EMPLOYEE

"How do I apply for leave?"

VIRTUAL AGENT

Provides:

- Relevant answer
- Applicable policy
- Step-by-step instructions
- Link to leave request
- Escalation option

KNOWLEDGE FOUNDATION

For reliable AI responses, content should have:

Clear structure + Metadata + Audience + Applicability + Ownership + Review Date + Trusted Source

Employee Experience | Self-Service | Persona-Based Content | HR Knowledge | Search Intent | ServiceNow | Virtual Agent | Case Deflection | AI-Ready Knowledge

23. CONTENT GOVERNANCE

Every self-service article should follow the enterprise knowledge lifecycle:

Update / Consolidate / Retire

This ensures that self-service content remains accurate, current, and trustworthy.

26. MY SELF-SERVICE CONTENT APPROACH

I design HR knowledge around the employee journey rather than the repository.

01 — UNDERSTAND

Identify the employee's question, intent, persona, and context.

02 — SIMPLIFY

Convert complex HR processes into clear, actionable content.

03 — CONNECT

Link knowledge to the relevant HR service, system, policy, or next action.

04 — PERSONALIZE

Adapt content based on employee / manager needs and regional applicability.

05 — MEASURE

Use search behavior, content usage, feedback, and HR case trends to identify improvement opportunities.

06 — IMPROVE

Continuously update content, close gaps, consolidate duplicates, and strengthen self-service.

PORTFOLIO NOTE

What this demonstrates

This artifact demonstrates my approach to creating persona-relevant HR knowledge designed around employee self-service journeys.

The content pack combines employee and manager experiences, search intent, actionable content, knowledge-to-service connections, feedback loops, content governance, analytics, and AI/virtual-agent readiness.

The objective is not simply to publish more HR articles.

The objective is to help employees find the right answer, take the right action, and reach HR support only when they genuinely need assistance.
